Graves, Junior Grand Warden; H. M. Parchen, Grand Treasurer; Cornelius Hedges, Grand Secretary. By vote of the Grand Lodge, the next session of that body was fixed to be held at Helena.

The following is the mongrel fusion Liberal-Democratic Daily Varden ticket nominated for county officers at Olympia last Saturday; Representatives—N. Henry and B. F. Yantis. Sheriff—Wm. Billings. Auditor—A. A. Phelps. Treasurer—W. J. Grainger. Commissioners—Alex. Yantis, James Longmire and Benj. Harned. School Superintendent—Rev. Thos. R. Dickey. Probate Judge—J. M. Lowe. Coroner—I. V. Moseman. Surveyor—D. S. B. Henry.

The Walla Walla Republican County Convention nominated the following ticket on the 16th inst.: Council, John Stahl; Joint Council, D. Bowman, of Whitman county; Representatives, T. H. Brents, J. H. Foster, R. G. Newland, W. M. Shelton, A. Zaring, M. C. Moore. Sheriff, Thos. Vawter; Auditor, W. N. Alloy; Treasurer, A. H. Reynolds; Probate Judge, Frank Shelton; County Commissioner, M. B. Ward, W. P. Bruce, L. L. Whitcomb; Assessor, Rev. J. B. Calloway; Superintendent of Schools, Rev. H. K. Hines.

The Helena Herald says: "The Northern Pacific surveyors, we understand, have developed a very feasible short line route through from the Yellowstone river, by way of the Judith Basin, across the Belt Range by Sixteen Mile Creek to the Missouri valley, opposite Crow creek. The survey is favorably progressing on the west side of the range, to which point the party arrived some days since. Mr. Hall, of Meagher, states that the most difficult grades encountered in crossing the divides in this route are found not to exceed sixty feet to the mile."

In the discussions of the Mormon Conference at Salt Lake City lately, Brigham Young took a somewhat new departure on the subject of Mormon children attending the Gentile schools. In reply to Elder Richards, who cautioned the Mormons against "the wiles of the enemy," and especially of their schools, Young said that he took different ground, and advised his people to send their children to any schools that were free. He thanked the Methodists and Episcopalians and all other sects for organizing schools in Utah, and said heaven would reward them. The old patriarch is as discreet in his fanaticism as he is cunning in his liberalism.

A Utah paper says: Brigham Young's smallest child has forty-nine mothers, one hundred great-grandmothers, four hundred great-great-grandmothers and about six brigades of grandfathers and great-grandfathers. The further back you go the more grandmothers and grandfathers the children have, and no doubt, if we reached clear into the middle ages, we would find that one half of the entire human race were grandmothers of that boy and the other half grandfathers. Brigham himself is annoyed and bewildered at the figures, and one reason for his marrying so much is that he wanted to straighten the thing out a little for his posterity, and begin fresh again by making himself the solitary grandfather of the children of all his offspring.

OREGON LEGISLATURE.

Seventh Biennial Session.

Senate.

MORNING SESSION.

SALEM, Oct. 22, 1872.

Minutes of yesterday were referred to select committee, consisting of Messrs Fay, Moores and Brown of Marion.

On motion of Mr. Dolph, H. B. No. 69, relative to fees of officers, was read third time.

Mr. Crawford moved that Linn county be exempted from the operations of this bill.

Mr. Brown of Marion moved that Marion be exempt.

Mr. Loeller moved that Umatilla be exempt.

Mr. Watson moved that all the rest of the counties be exempt.

These motions were all lost.

The question being, "Shall the bill pass?" the vote stood ayes 10, noes 12; so the bill was lost.

A communication was received from the Governor, announcing the signature to several bills.

A message was received from the House announcing amendments to the Appropriation bill. The Senate concurred in these amendments.

H. B. No. 45, to amend the law regulating the appointment of Supervisors, was read first time.

Mr. Cornelius objected and the bill was rejected.

H. B. No. 62, appropriating the proceeds of the overflowed and the lands to the School Fund, was read first time.

H. B. No. 135, to legalize the marriage of certain parties, was read first time.

H. B. No. 134, to authorize County Commissioners to provide a sinking fund in their several counties, was read first time.

H. B. No. 81, to provide for compiling and printing the laws of Oregon, appointing Messrs. M. P. Deady and Sylvester C. Simpson as Commissioners for compiling said laws, was read third time and passed—ayes 18, noes 12.

H. B. No. 110, to confirm the titles of certain lands sold by the Board of Land Commissioners, was read first, second and third times, and passed.

H. B. No. 133, to amend an act regulating roads, was read first time and laid on the table.

H. J. M., No. 8, asking Congress to create a Collection District and Port of Entry at Coos Bay, was concurred in.

H. B. No. 62, to provide for assessing and collecting taxes, was read second time and referred to Committee of the Whole, to sit at 8 P. M. to-day.

H. B. No. 118, to define the duties and compensation of the State Printer, was read second time, amended, and read third time, and pending its passage the Senate adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Senate met at the usual hour.

H. B. 118, relating to the duties and compensation of State Printer, was, on motion of Mr. Fay, made a special order for 10 A. M. to-morrow.

H. B. 67, to amend an act incorporating the city of Portland; read a second and third time.

The time having arrived for consideration of the resolution relating to the Benton county contest, Mr. Dolph moved to take the resolution from the table.

Mr. Fay moved to lay the motion on the table. Carried —12 to 10—Brown of Marion voting with the Democrats in the affirmative.

H. B. 124, to quiet title to lands held by certain settlers, was passed.

H. B. 76, to create and organize a State Children's Aid Society, was read a third time and passed.

H. B. 134, amending an act relating to wharfage on the Columbia and Willamette rivers, and providing for placing a steam tug at the Columbia bar, was read a second time, amended, and passed to its third reading to-morrow.

H. B. 94, to amend an act authorizing the city of Portland to lay out streets and alleys, was read a second time.

H. B. 22, to amend the law relating to ferries; read a second time.

H. B. 80, to provide for a State Board of equalization was read a second time.

Mr. Strahan, from the Committee on Commerce, reported back H. B. No. 48, relating to estrays, with the recommendation that it do not pass.

Report adopted and bill indefinitely postponed.

H. B. No. 105, to amend an act relating to public roads, was read second time and referred to Committee on Roads and Highways.

H. B. No. 53, to provide for a State Geologist, was read second time, amended and passed by a vote of 14 to 6.

H. B. No. 108, for the relief of Curry county, was read third time.

Pending the vote on the passage, the Senate went into Committee of the Whole, for consideration of H. B. No. 62, relating to the assessment and collection of State taxes.

Mr. Dolph stated that the bill was so full of incongruities, that he was satisfied it could not at this late day be so shaped as to secure its passage. He therefore moved the Committee rise and report the bill back with the recommendation that it do not pass.

Mr. Myers hoped the motion would not prevail, as he saw the absolute necessity of some wholesome law relating to the subject of raising revenue. This body had created many new offices and raised the salaries of old ones, and unless some measures were taken to meet this increase of expense, in two years from now would find the State finances in a deplorable condition.

Mr. Dolph concurred in the views of the Senator from Clackamas, and hoped the bill would be fully considered and passed.

Mr. Watson was opposed to the further consideration of the bill. He didn't believe it could be placed in such shape as to be passed this session.

After some further discussion on the part of Messrs. Bristow, Dolph, Myers, Strahan,

WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 23, 1872.

Opening the Ball

The political ball was opened on the 21st at Hillsboro, Hon W. D. Hare, Republican candidate for Presidential Elector, and E. D. Shattuck, Democratic candidate, composing the first not on the floor. The announcements already made will occupy all the time till the election. Meanwhile Hon. J. F. Gazley has commenced the campaign in the southern section of the State, and, from the way the Greeley papers out there chalk over his speeches, as well as from the known ability of Mr. Gazley, it is certain he is making it rather unpleasant for the opposition.

We arrived at Hillsboro too late to hear Mr. Hare's opening remarks, but we did hear a part of Judge Shattuck's response, and it was plain that gentleman felt himself unequal to the task of bolstering up a cause so utterly devoid of inherent strength as that of the Greeley movement. The warp and woof of his discourse were the old and stale calumnies against the character of the President and his friends of the Republican party, which have been refuted over and over again. The charge of wanton extravagance in the administration of the Government, and of inefficiency in the collection and appropriation of the revenues of the country, was repeated in as many forms as the circumstances of the case would admit of its being done, and the regular gibe on the subject of "bull pups" was brought in by way of peroration.

We entertain a very high opinion of Judge Shattuck as a gentleman and a citizen, and cannot but regret to see him engaged in pleading the cause of a ring of political demagogues and stock-jobbers, whose hardihood and effrontery, as exhibited in the manner of their bringing their candidate to the front, are only equaled by the unscrupulousness with which they are carrying on the contest.

The Herald on Hon. S. Garfields.

The Herald of yesterday morning assails Hon. S. Garfields, charging him with indolence and inattention to the business of Washington Territory during his Delegateship. It is well known that the influence of a Delegate in Congress from one of the Territories, is not nearly so great as that of a member from a State. The Delegate has no vote on any question. He may address the House, but that gives him no power compared with what he would have with the right to vote as well as to speak. The best speeches on the floor of the House would be divested of half their force, by taking away from the speaker the right to forward his views by the ballot.

The Delegate must beg for favors. He cannot demand rights. His constituency are not citizens of a State, sovereign within the limits of the Constitution, but of a Territory that derives its very organization from Congress, and is dependent upon that body for its very existence. Every law of the Territory is subject to Congressional supervision or nullification. Its condition is one of absolute dependency, so far as relates to any matter of which the Delegate is expected to speak in Congress. Standing in a position where he feels himself a sort of supernumerary, the Delegate is cramped and restrained in all his efforts for his constituency. If Mr. Garfields should be able to show that he has accomplished any very remarkable results in the way of procuring legislation for the especial benefit of Washington Territory, he could do more than any other Delegate of Washington Territory has ever done.

The following extract from the Herald's article shows the spirit in which that paper outern the content against Mr. Garfields:

> The fact appears to be that Mr. Garfields has outlived his influence with everybody. No one can trust him. His actions do not correspond with his words. The promises which he made before election he has failed to fulfill after he is elected. He is indolent and inattentive to the wants of the Territory, as the record of his past Congressional history shows. He has done nothing. All that can be said of him is that he is full of promises for the future. But who can rely upon their being fulfilled? He has deceived every one who has trusted him. This accounts for the great change which has taken place among his former friends, and renders his defeat and the election of Judge McFadden foregone conclusions.

The first sentence of this extract is contradicted by the fact that Mr. Garfields has received the unanimous endorsement of the Territorial Convention, as a candidate for re-election. It may be possible in some cases to secure the nomination to a high office, of a man who has little or no influence, but it is impossible to secure such a nomination without a dissenting voice, in a Convention wherein is represented every conflicting interest of a country so vast and varied in its industries and wants as Washington Territory.

As to its being a "foregone conclusion" that Garfields will be beaten, we suggest to our neighbor of the Herald the propriety of refraining from any hasty predictions. It is only two weeks till the election, and the Herald's readers will not have forgotten this random guessing, when the returns show how far it is from correct.

The Herald has the following malicious thrust at the Republican members of the Legislature who, on the motion to reconsider the vote by which the act was passed to purchase the Locks and Canal, changed their votes and defeated the bill:

> The action in the House of Representatives, last Saturday evening, although nugatory, so far as relates to its effect upon the Lock bill, serves this useful purpose, namely: It shows who changed their minds after voting for the bill, and leaves it open to inference as to what motive induced so sudden a change. People will have their opinions on this subject, and those opinions are not very likely to be flattering to the pride of Mr. Stott and those who joined him in so sudden a change. It is shrewdly conjectured that it was not a supernatural revelation which produced so remarkable a revolution of opinion in so short a time; but that the actual revelation was of the earth, earthy.

The Representatives who changed their votes upon the reconsideration, are men whose integrity is without reproach and above suspicion. We are of the opinion that they, as well as those who opposed the bill from the first, will be convinced before the expiration of two years more, that the leaving of the Canal and Locks in the control of a private corporation, is most unfortunate for the people of the State. But that those men were induced to change their votes, by considerations that were inconsistent with their honor, or that they were prompted by any but pure motives, no person who knows them will believe for a moment.

Boss Tweed is still secreted from the officers of justice. The Sheriff, however, does not think he contemplates leaving the country, "or being otherwise than quite available." Other people who commit crimes and hide from the officers, are supposed to meditate escaping from justice? "Quite available," as a phrase to express the concealment of a felon whom the officers acknowledge unable to produce, is decidedly good.

High Freights

The Bulletin takes issue with the OREGONIAN as to high freights charged on wheat from the head of the valley, as compared with freights on the same article from Chicago to Albany, New York, a distance of about eight hundred miles, and quotes what the Springfield Republican says about the high freights on corn to prove its position. We were not aware that the Walhamet valley exported any corn. After making figures on corn, it proceeds to wind us up in the following paragraph, which must be highly satisfactory to those interested in corn

> But we will now leave the OREGONIAN to reconcile its statements with the statements of the Springfield Republican and also to get over the matter about the freight charges and not proceed as we have presented them, and to-morrow we will put before it something still stronger in support of our position and which will show the fallacy and absurdity of its position.

We will now proceed to verify our statements as before published, which were taken from the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser, known to be one of the most reliable papers upon statistics of this kind. Its location at the junction of Lake Erie and the Erie Canal, gives it peculiar facilities for obtaining reliable information. We will, however, proceed to give the quotations of freight from various places taken from the New York Journal of Commerce, also a paper most implicitly relied upon by all business men. We hope our neighbor is not so much corned that he cannot figure on wheat. Let us proceed to the facts. The following are the quotations from the Journal of Commerce to which we refer

MARKETS.—BY TELEGRAPH TO THE JOURNAL OF COMMERCE.

ALBANY, Sept. 23.—Wheat in limited milling demand and market favors buyers; sales one car No 1 new white Michigan at $1 93

OSWEGO, Sept. 23.—Wheat dull, sales 10,000 bushels choice white State at $1 90. Canal freights—Barley, 8@8½ to New York, lumber—$4 to the Hudson. Railroad freights—Flour, to Boston, 65c, to New York, 50c.

BUFFALO, Sept 23.—Canal freights—Wheat, 13½; Corn, 12c, Oats, 7½c.

It will be observed that the freight from Oswego to Boston by railroad, where there is no river or canal competition, is 65c per barrel; from Oswego to New York by railroad, 50c per barrel or about 13c per bushel for a distance of nearly 400 miles. (Canal freight on barley for about the same distance is 8 to 8½c per bushel.) It will be observed further, that the quotation of freight on wheat from Buffalo, by canal, is 13½c per bushel. This probably includes also the freight down the Hudson river, as the canal boats are usually towed directly to New York, without transhipment. Saying nothing about that, however, let us figure from the above quotations, (which are an advance over the previous month, and according to the Springfield Republican's statement are about double those of last year,) and see how the account stands.

Wheat at Albany per bushel	$1 90
Freight from Chicago to Buffalo via Lake	9c
" " Buffalo to Albany	13½c
	22½
Net price of wheat after paying freight	$1 70½

These prices are currency.

Wheat worth uncocked at Portland, Oregon, (gold)	71c
Freight from Eugene City—126 miles	22½c
	93½c
Leaving	93½c
Equal to currency	00c

By the above figures it will be seen that it takes only about one-ninth part of the wheat to transport it from Chicago to Albany, New York, a distance of eight hundred miles, whereas it requires nearly one-third to transport it from Eugene City to Portland, a distance of only one hundred and twenty-six miles. This enormous difference led us to suggest that a reduction of freight would be for the mutual benefit of the transportation companies and the producer and promotive of the general prosperity of the State. We think this showing ought to convince even the Bulletin that we have not put the case too strongly in relation to the exorbitant freight charges which oppress our farmers, and tend to discourage immigration to our shores.

After oscillating some days between the House and the Senate, Mr. Simpson's Lock Bill has at last found its final resting place on the table of the House, the Senate never having acted upon it. It will not be taken from the table, and is therefore as dead as if it had been rejected by a direct vote. We have not hesitated to express our belief that the securing of this gateway to the Wallamet valley, is a matter of vital importance to the producers of the valley, and indirectly to the people of the entire western portion of the State. And in this there are few, so far as we have been informed, who do not agree with us, whatever may be the differences of opinion as to the propriety of passing the bill presented to the Legislature.

That the members from the Columbia river counties and from the Southern and Eastern portions of the State should not have been inclined to support the bill when those from the central and southern counties of the Wallamet valley, were not united in its support, all of whose constituents were to receive immediate and direct benefit from the passage of the act, was reasonable and natural. The honor of having defeated the measure, if it is an honor, belongs to the Representatives from the Wallamet valley counties who declined to give it their support; and if the future shall prove, as we sincerely believe it will, that the defeat of this measure inflicts a serious blow upon the farming interests of the State, the responsibility therefor will be upon these Wallamet valley Representatives. Doubtless they have acted as they thought the welfare of the State demanded, and they can afford to take the responsibility, or receive the honor, of defeating the most momentous proposition ever presented to the Legislature of Oregon.

Governor Grover has returned, without his approval, the act to amend the charter of this city, commonly known as the Portland Police Bill, and the House has voted to pass the bill notwithstanding the veto. It is not likely there will be two-thirds of the Senate in favor of passing it over the Governor's head. The act made no material change in our present Police system except to vest the power to appoint the Police Commissioners in the Council, subject to the Mayor's approval, instead of in the Governor, and to authorize the appointment of the successors of the present Commissioners to be made immediately. The present system was passed as a party measure by the Democratic Legislature of 1870, and was condemned as a usurpation by nearly all the Republicans and a large proportion of the Democrats of the State. Even those who understand the Governor's willingness to do whatever may appear to be for the interest of the Democracy, will be surprised that he has had the hardihood to interpose his veto power between the people of Portland and their local officers.

A correspondent writing from La Grande says the ranks of the Democracy in that region are daily becoming thiner and more discouraged, and that in November their majority in Eastern Oregon will be much less than it was at the June election. For the last two years the strength of the Democratic party in all the eastern counties, has been on the wane. Next Tuesday week will prove to the leaders of that party that its members in Oregon are of the bad luck type, and that while there may be a few of them who will vote for Grant and Wilson, there are many who will not ratify the bargain by which they were sold to a few hungry renegades from the Republican party.

Negotiations relative to an international patent system in England, are to be immediately opened, in accordance with the resolution of the Select Committee of the House of Commons, who recommend "an assimilation in the law and practice with respect to inventions among the various civilized countries of the world, and that her Majesty's Government be requested to inquire of foreign and colonial Governments whether they are ready to concur in international arrangements thereto."

By the passage of the act enabling the county of Multnomah to establish a House of correction for the vagrant children that infest the city, the Legislature has broken ground for a much needed institution. There are numbers of children about the city, too young to be sent to jail, and too vicious for any other place now prepared to receive them. Most of these children might, if placed under proper restraint and discipline, be reclaimed and be made useful men and women.

We had the pleasure of addressing a large and intelligent audience at Hillsboro, on the evening of the 21st instant, upon the pending political issues. A feature of the occasion which we appreciated very highly, was the presence of a considerable number of ladies. The Republicans of Washington county are working harmoniously and energetically, and will roll up a much greater majority for Grant and Wilson than they gave the Republican ticket in June.

LETTER FROM CLARKE COUNTY, W. T.

VANCOUVER, W. T., Oct. 22, 1872.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

THE "PEOPLE'S TICKET."

The Democracy of this county, aware of its weakness as such, is resorting to the shallow dodge of trying to palm its ticket off as a "People's Ticket." Judge McFadden was announced as the "People's Candidate." Now we would like to know by what right he is so styled? Was he not twice nominated by a regularly-called Democratic convention? What voice had the "people" of Clarke in electing delegates to the convention that nominated him? Then again, in what sense, pray, is the Democratic ticket of this county a "People's Ticket?" Was it a people's convention or a Democratic convention that nominated it? Was it not composed entirely of unterrified Democrats? Certainly it was. Why then do they seek to hide their real character, and obtain votes for their party under the false pretense that it is a people's party? The answer is, that they know that the name of Democracy stinks in the nostrils of intelligent men, and they dare not face the electors of this country under a name which has become synonymous with corruption and peculation. They made a grave mistake, however, if they thought their artful dodge wouldn't be seen through. Republicans will show them on election day that it was by far "too thin."

THAT SERENADE,

made mention of editorially in Sunday's Herald, as an evidence of McFadden's popularity in this county, was "no great shakes," when it is considered that runners had been drumming the whole county for several days, and then succeeded after all in getting together not to exceed forty persons.

THE COUNTY CANVASS.

Pursuant to notice, Hon. S. W. Brown and Dr. J. W. Turner addressed the voters of Pollock Precinct, at Meeker's on Monday. An audience of from thirty to forty persons welcomed the speakers, and frequently testified their appreciation of Republican doctrines by hearty applause. On their return, these gentlemen will address their fellow-citizens at Palmer's Mill, on Thursday; at Mill Plain on Friday, and at Washougal on Saturday.

A GRAND RALLY

of Republicans is to come off here some time during the present week—probably Friday evening. Messrs. Wingard, Struve, and Caples are mentioned as among those who will address the meeting.

Petty thefts have become quite common in Washington county. We have heard of no less than half a dozen cases where houses have been broken into and valuables taken out. The best thing the citizens can do is to load their guns and watch for these scoundrels and give them a dose of shot whenever they can catch them pilfering. If this thing is indulged in much longer a little lynching and hanging will be resorted to says our correspondent.

CHANGE OF GRADE.—The change along Fourth street has wrought a marteration in the condition of the walks. Formerly existed. The necessary sidegrade on the street opposite the stone last year by Mr. Vaughn, has filled up to a level with the top of the stone the top alone is visible. The present wall is of no use, and can only serve tion on which the fence can be built. western, or lower side of the street, a posite the wall, and still further same side, the sidewalk has been three feet. Houses, the foundation once stood level with the street, are yards below, in many places. Ornawhich have attained a good size, are stout trunks, have been filled around loose earth, until the passer can branches, formerly several yards beach. The changes are so mark same localities can scarcely be identified the reservoir the grade is some feet below the old sidewalk. Some to the lateness of the season, and the of necessary changes to be made to the Water Company will not make conform to the established grade the change of the grade opposite just south, on which stands the St. Mary, require that about four feet of constructed under the present one. half the wall has already been built, will be so far advanced in about more that the sidewalk can be graded with the street.

OYSTERS.—The following, which Olympia paper of the 19th inst., may lot of oysters, consisting of five sacks from Olympia by Mr. Manning for market, went out this morning to station on Mr. Guthrie's team. The fished by the Indians, who can supply large quantities from the mud flats in Mr. Manning has a bed of oysters planted near Finch's wharf last year flourishing beds in Mud Bay. He has oysters here are as large as those of Oregon coast, and of equal flavor, and think that he can compete successfully with others in the Portland market. The first quantities of this bivalve here, are not grudge the Portland epicures a delicacy. Mr. Manning wishes to ship all stand pounds daily as soon as he can by means of transportation." These oysters arrived yesterday by the Fannie Troop, the first shipment of oysters ever made from Olympia via the N. P. R. R.

KICKED.—Mr. Philip Horning, the met with a severe accident Monday. He was driving a young and fractious near the west side depot. He was moving at a rapid pace, when one of the traces loosened. The dangling of the trace heels of the horse scared it and caused with might and main. Mr. Horning reins and checked the speed of the horse, did not cause the horse to cease its kicking, third "pass" of one of the hoofs struck Horning's right leg below the knee, inflicting a "cork" a very ugly gash. The animal then to rear and kick until it became free from vehicle. Horning managed to retain his reins, to which he clung resolutely and the animal's head towards the railroad ment, and stopped its career. Officers came to the rescue, and Mr. Horning was moved to the drug store of Mr. Wood, and wound dressed. The gash was found to be a severe character, and will probably confine Horning to his bed for several weeks.

CHINESE THIEF.—An old Chinaman, named Ah Sing, served last evening about 8 o'clock, around a dry goods store on Front street, proprietor of the store suspecting him of taking about the premises with no honest intent, tended to leave the store by going out the door. He, however, only secreted himself behind some boxes and narrowly watched the movements. No sooner had the merchant disappeared, than "John," thinking the moment had arrived, came in at the door and began to fumble about among a heap of clothing. Without waiting to see the merchant rushed out from his hiding place, fell on "John" like a cloud of devouring wrath. He gave him a terrific raising with his foot, by couple of clenched hands. The Celestial French leave and did not tarry to pay for goods he was inspecting with such earnestness, merchant interrupted him.

TAX ROLL.—Mr. J. A. Waters is engaged in making out the tax list for the county. labor will require some time to complete. Every property holder's amount of taxing to the levy, must be accurately figured, the sum placed opposite his name. The work is tedious and painstaking task, and necessarily requires time and labor. Mr. Waters hopes to have the list completed and ready to place in the hands of the Sheriff for collection in the course of ten days. The list will be completed by the end of the month, although the law does not require it to be finished until the 10th of November.

SHADE TREES.—The change in the Fourth street, opposite the Sisters' School, necessitate the cutting around of the roots of beautiful maple trees which have stood so long on the walk. These trees have attained large proportions. The sidewalk will have to be cut down about three feet and a half, and the operation will require the removal of the trees around the trunks of the trees, and the cutting of nearly all the roots, so that the certain destruction of the trees will be accomplished.

DISCHARGED.—Mr. Staples, the engineer of the Falkinburg, who was arrested Monday

CITY.

CHANGE OF GRADE.—The change of grade along Fourth street has wrought a marvellous alteration in the condition of the walks, as they formerly existed. The necessary elevation of the grade on the street opposite the stone wall erected last year by Mr Vaughn, has filled the sidewalk up to a level with the top of the stone fence. Just the top alone is visible. The present height of the wall is of no use, and can only serve as a foundation on which the fence can be built. On the eastern, or lower side of the street, at a point opposite the wall, and still further south on the same side, the sidewalk has been raised over three feet. Houses, the foundations of which were stood level with the street, are now several yards below, in many places. Ornamental trees which have attained a good size, and boast of stout trunks, have been filled around with the loose earth, until the passer can touch the branches, formerly several yards beyond their reach. The changes are so marked that the same localities can scarcely be identified. Opposite the reservoir the grade is some five or six feet below the old sidewalk. Some material changes will be necessary at that point, but owing to the lateness of the season, and the magnitude of necessary changes to be made to the reservoir, the Water Company will not make the sidewalk conform to the established grade the present year. The change of the grade opposite the block just south, on which stands the St. Mary's Academy, requires that about four feet of new wall be constructed under the present one. More than half the wall has already been built, and the work will be so far advanced in about two weeks more that the sidewalk can be graded down level with the street.

OYSTERS.—The following, which is from an Olympia paper of the 19th inst, may be of interest to bivalve speculators in this city. "The first lot of oysters, consisting of five sacks, shipped from Olympia by Mr. Manning for the Portland market, went out this morning to the railway station on Mr. Guthrie's team. These were furnished by the Indians, who can supply them in large quantities from the mud flats in the vicinity. Mr. Manning has a bed of oysters which he planted near Finch's wharf last year, also some flourishing beds in Mud Bay. He says that the oysters here are as large as those of those of the Oregon coast, and of equal flavor, and he seems to think that he can compete successfully with any others in the Portland market. There are unlimited quantities of this bivalve here, and we shall not grudge the Portland epicures a dish occasionally. Mr. Manning wishes to ship about a thousand pounds daily as soon as he can get regular means of transportation." These same oysters arrived yesterday by the Fannie Troup. This is the first shipment of oysters ever made to this city from Olympia via the N. P. R. R.

KICKED.—Mr. Philip Horning, the ice man, met with a severe accident Monday afternoon as he was driving a young and fractious horse down near the west side depot. He was moving along at a rapid pace, when one of the traces became loosened. The dangling of the trace about the heels of the horse scared it and caused it to kick with might and main. Mr. Horning drew in the reins and checked the speed of the horse. This did not cause the horse to cease its kicking. The third "pass" of one of the hoofs struck Mr. Horning's right leg below the knee, inflicting with the "stroke" a very ugly gash. The animal continued to rear and kick until it became free from the rubble. Horning managed to retain hold of one rein, by which he clung resolutely and thus turned the animal's head towards the railroad embankment, and stopped its career. Other persons came to the rescue, and Mr. Horning was removed to the drug store of Mr. Woodard and the wound dressed. The gash was found to be of a severe character, and will probably confine Mr Horning to his bed for several weeks.

CHINESE THIEF.—An old Chinaman was arrested last evening about 8 o'clock, hanging around a dry goods store on Front street. The proprietor of the store suspecting him to be lurking about the premises with no honest intent, proceeded to leave the store by going out at the back door. He, however, only secreted himself behind some boxes and narrowly watched the Celestial's movements. No sooner had the merchant disappeared, than "John," thinking the golden moment had arrived, came in at the door and began to fumble about among a heap of ready-made clothing. Without waiting to see the sequel, the merchant rushed out from his hiding place and fell on "John" like a cloud of devouring locusts. He gave him a terrific raising with his boot, aided by couple of clenched hands. The Celestial took French leave and did not tarry to purchase the goods he was inspecting with such care when the merchant interrupted him.

TAX ROLL.—Mr. J. A. Waters is now engaged making out the tax list for the county. This labor will require some time to accomplish. Every property holder's amount of taxes, according to the levy, must be accurately figured and the sum placed opposite his name. This is a very tedious and painstaking task, and necessarily requires time and labor. Mr. Waters hopes to have the list completed and ready to place in the hands of the Sheriff for collection in the course of ten days. The list will be completed by the first of the month, although the law does not require the roll to be finished until the 16th of November.

SHADE TREES.—The change in the grade on Fourth street, opposite the Sisters' School, will necessitate the cutting around of the row of beautiful maple trees which have stood so long shading the walk. These trees have attained handsome proportions. The sidewalk will have to be graded down about three feet and a half, and the alteration will require the removal of the dirt from around the trunks of the trees, and the severing of nearly all the roots, so that the certain destruction of the trees will be accomplished.

DISCHARGED.—Mr. Staples, the mate of the Fallenberg, who was arrested Monday evening on the charge of assaulting a common sailor, on said vessel, was honorably discharged by the court yesterday morning. The testimony proved that the sailor was the aggressor, and that the hatchet used by the mate was employed only in self defence. The case appearing to be that of malicious prosecution on the part of the complaining witness, on motion of the City Attorney, the costs were taxed against him.

DISAGREEABLE.—The habit of destroying by fire piles of rubbish, such as old wet straw, paper, etc, should be discontinued. Yesterday evening this was observed a number of these fires burning on the streets, back yards, or vacant lots. Besides being dangerous, such fires are an intolerable nuisance. The smoke from burning material of this character, is peculiarly offensive to the olfactories, and enough to suffocate a person. Let such trash be carted away and burned outside the limits, if it must be destroyed.

BARK FORWARD.—This bark, now on berth at the wharf of Moffett & Stephens, will soon commence to receive cargo for Hongkong. A number of bunks have been built for the accommodation of passengers who may wish to return to the Flowery Land on a visit or to remain, and various alterations made in the hull for the reception of flour and other kinds of freight. The Forward is announced to sail for her destination on the first of next month.

DOWN HIS THROAT.—A Chinaman used some insolent language to a young man the other evening, when addressed. The young man promptly responded by knocking the celestial down. He struck him a terrible blow on the mouth, if results are an indication. Two molars were knocked clear down his throat, and a third one loosened. The Chinaman swore out a complaint, and the case will soon be heard before Judge Denny.

TARGET PRACTICE.—To day the Emmet Guard will hold their annual target practice. The place selected is the bottom north of the city, below the new steam saw mill. The company will meet at their Armory at 1 o'clock, and march in regular order to the ground chosen. The East Portland band has been employed for the occasion. The occasion will conclude, as customary, with a hop at the Armory this evening.

PHOTOGRAPHIC VIEWS.—Jos Buchtel was on hand yesterday in taking photographic views of several prominent buildings of the city. These views include Ankeny's new market, Dekum's building and several others. We learn that these photographs are to be sent East soon to an engraver, and will be used to illustrate Samuel's Directory of Portland, now in course of compilation.

CONTINUED.—The case of F. Miller, charged with having retailed liquor and kept a public place of amusement open on Sunday, has been continued before Justice Ryan until to day, when it will come up for hearing.

EXPEDITED.—The dispensation and charter for the organization of a new Lodge of the Independent Order of Red Men in this city, a petition for which was forwarded to the Grand Council some time ago, is expected to arrive very soon. On its receipt the necessary steps will be taken at once for the proper officers to institute another Lodge of this excellent order of brotherhood.

NUMBER OF CASES.—The total number of arrests made during the present month is 123, as follows: City cases, 100; State cases, 23. The average number of arrests daily, at this rate, is a fraction over five, which indicates that crime still prevails and flourishes with a vigor not encouraging to the moralist.

NOT HELD.—William Cown, a young man arrested several days ago on the charge of stealing a silver watch from Alexander Wilson, was examined yesterday in the Police Court. The testimony failing to prove the allegations made in the complaint, the Judge discharged the defendant.

DISTRIBUTION OF PRIZES.—A number of hand some prizes will be distributed among the members of the Emmet Guard, whose annual target practice comes off to-day. Those who have the steadiest nerves and the most accurate eye will be certain to capture the first and best prizes.

AT KALAMA.—The ship Zolucre has been towed nearly up to Kalama—as near as her present draught of water will allow. More iron will be taken from the vessel before she will be able to reach the wharf.

SENDING FORWARD.—Large quantities of heavy castings, rods, bolts, etc, are being shipped from this city to the Canal and Lock Company at Oregon City. Scarcely a day passes but what more or less of such materials are sent up by steamer.

FOR REPAIRS.—The steam tug Astoria is now lying alongside the bark Forward, at Stephens & Moffett's wharf. She will have some needed repairs made to her machinery before returning.

VERY ILL.—We regret to state that W. A. Holbrook, who has been quite ill for several days, took a turn for the worse last evening, and his condition is now considered as dangerous.

FILED.—The motion for a new trial in the case of the United States vs. Frank Tompkins et al, was filed in the District Court yesterday, by the attorney for the defendants.

STILL AGROUND.—The bark Loch Dee is still aground near the head of Swan Island bar. It is probable that the vessel will have to be lightered before she can be got off.

NOT IN.—The steamer John L. Stephens from San Francisco, and the California from Victoria are due at this port, but neither had arrived as we go to press this morning.

Eight years ago Mr Chas Holman commanded the steamer John H. Couch.

Flocks of wild geese passed over the town last night, in pursuit of inviting fresh pastures.

The opening on Monday evening, at Oro Fino Theatre, augured well for a successful season.

Frogs have commenced their nightly concerts. They will soon be looking through ice at the sun and moon.

There will be a special meeting of the Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department, Saturday evening.

Some of our young hoodlums have lately been exercising their muscular development by making targets of Chinamen.

Three years ago next Sunday the first rail was laid in the State, and now over 200 miles of railroad are in active operation.

Mr. Wolff and lady, whose nuptials were celebrated on the 15th inst, were serenaded Sunday night by the East Portland band.

A telegraph wire now runs from the Business College to a residence on Main street. Mr James intends extending it as soon as arrangements can be made.

The "bump of destructiveness" may be largely developed on some men's heads, but it is always exhibited when two railroad trains try to run on a single line—in opposite directions.

A friend showed us yesterday the twenty third number of the first volume of the WEEKLY OREGONIAN, twenty one years old. It looked rather rusty, but is good for many years yet.

It is now proposed to utilize scraps of leather or skin by manufacturing from them a paper, in combination with rags or other fibrous substances. For this purpose the refuse cuttings of any kind of leather are taken, those of calfskin, however, being preferred.

THE HOME.

The ladies of the Relief Society are happy to announce to the public that the Home, which has recently been furnished through the generosity of the citizens of Portland, is now in working order and ready for inspection.

The ladies would take this opportunity to express their most grateful thanks to the following gentlemen who have so nobly assisted them in this good work: The Oregon Iron Works, for a cooking stove; E. Millman, for furnishing this stove; Corbett & Failing for a large supply of cutlery, Holladay & Bliss, for wooden ware, Mr. W. Jackson, for a liberal supply of crockery, Burgeen & Shindler, Emil, Lowenstein & Co., and W. A. Buchanan, for furniture, Waller Bros, for a valuable supply of carpeting and curtains, Corbett & Manleay, for groceries, Clarke, Henderson & Cook, for dry goods, Gill, Steel & Bancroft, for stationery; Messrs Jeffries, Veritas and Richardson, for bricks for a cellar, the work of which was done gratuitously by Mr. Richardson, Mr McDonald, for carpenter work; Mr H. R. Riley and other gentlemen, who have furnished wood, Messrs Watkins, C. E. Hoffman, C. M. Reber and Spaulding, who furnish the Home with meals, alternately for three months; to the young ladies' Bible Class No. 11, of the Presbyterian church, for furnishing the Matron's room, also a young ladies' class in the Unitarian church, for making a quilt. We would also gratefully acknowledge many useful articles from other merchants—Messrs. Weeks, Hodge & Calef, Labbe Bros, Monastes, Lowenburg, C. Hopkins, Murphey, Johns & Hawes, Hachenay & Stemme, Dean Bros., Jones, Mrs. Quinn, L. C. Henriksen, P. Selling, C. S. Silver, J. Lake, O. C. Farnsworth, Holmes & McCain, Francis, Murphy & Kelly.

While feeling obeored and grateful for these donations, the ladies would here say, that as cold weather is approaching, and the inmates are increasing, the sleeping accommodations are yet incomplete. More bedsteads, bedding and blankets are needed. Will some who have not yet given, come forward to complete the good work in this line?

FANNY AINSWORTH,
Secretary Ladies' Relief Society.

THE Locke Bill, Water Works Bill, Litigant Bill Public Bill, and other bills, are attracting general attention throughout the State. You can do no better than buy a bill of goods at J. O'Neil & Co's. Their fall and winter goods are open for inspection. An excellent stock, indeed. The prices are moderate. You can depend upon getting clothes to fit at this house. Need anything, more to add? No! The place is 97 First street.

EPICUREANS will find at Stalls Nos 10 and 11, Central Market, a very choice lot of game, fish and poultry. Quinn who continues to dispense these luxuries at the Union Market, Washington street, presides over these Stalls, and that is all that need be said to induce every one to call.

ARE YOU TROUBLED WITH A BAD BREATH.—It annoys your friends as well as yourself. You would like to get rid of it, but scarcely know what means to adopt. We will tell you. Use the fragrant SOZODONT. It will cleanse and beautify your teeth, and leave your breath pure. 19

DO NOT NEGLECT A COLD.—Thousands have been carried to early and unnecessary graves by not resorting to some sure and reliable means of cure. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is offered as a cure of most half a century's standing, and is in all respects the best for coughs, colds, bronchitis, whooping cough, etc.

AMUSEMENTS.

An oyster supper will be given this evening in East Portland at the Odd Fellows' Hall, under the auspices of the members of Excelsior Encampment No. 2, I. O. R. C.

"Richelieu," or the "Conspiracy," Bulwer's great masterpiece, was rendered in splendid style at Oro Fino Theater last evening. The house was well filled with ladies and gentlemen, who gave abundant token of their appreciation of the manner in which the grand play was produced by frequent applause. This evening "Hamlet, Prince of Denmark," will be offered with the entire strength of the powerful company.

Two merchants of Helena, Montana, were lately victimized to the tune of several thousand dollars, by freighters whom they employed to haul goods from Corinne. The freighters left the latter place last summer, but since then neither goods nor freighters have been heard of.

VERY little time remains for you to decide who that you are going to vote for Grant or Greeley. This, however, need not disturb your mind in the least, as you will certainly decide the moment you gaze upon that elegant stock of new fall and winter goods lately opened at Fi hel & Roberts', to have them take your measure for a suit. While there examine the latest styles in gents' furnishing goods. Youths can be accommodated with neat fitting suits at this house.

The old saying is, "What everybody says must be true," and everybody says that Beck & Waldman have the largest and best selected stock of the latest styles and patterns in gentlemen's Clothing and Furnishing Goods in the city of Portland. They have the largest variety of Boy's, Youth's and Children's Suits, all which will be sold according to the times. Please call and satisfy yourself that we will not be undersold by anyone.

Undeveloped Vigor
The feeble and debilitated usually fancy they are in a more hopeless condition than they really are. The resources of nature are not easily exhausted. Even when strength and appetite fail, when the eyes are heavy and lustreless, the complexion pallid, the nerves tremulous, the body attenuated and the mind depressed, there is generally a reserve of latent power behind such palpable and palpable evidences of weakness. Various modes of treatment are resorted to by physicians in the hope of developing and rendering available this store of sleeping vitality; but the surest, and indeed the only thoroughly safe and reliable means of awakening the dormant energies of the system, is a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Electricity, shower-baths, the flesh brush, sea bathing, etc., may be well enough in their way as auxiliaries, but they do not reach the source of the evil. All physical debility proceeds either from a derangement of the functions of the assimilating, secretive and vital organs, or from a sluggish constitution. In either case, and also in cases where both causes exist, the Bitters will invariably produce an immediate and salutary change in the condition of the patient, and eventually effect a complete cure. None of the dangerous alkaloids, too often administered as tonics, can be otherwise than deleterious under such circumstances, and to give mercury is positively criminal. The direct effect of the great vegetable specific will be manifested in an improved appetite, a more clear full brain of mind, a gradual return of strength, an increase of flesh, and a healthier complexion. Meanwhile, however, the constitution if not an feeble, will have been roused and renovated by the subtile elements of invigoration contained in the Bitters.

In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

The Exodus from Alsace.

[From the Boston Advertiser.]

It is only the first step that costs, says a French proverb Thousands of Frenchmen, however, have been proving how untrue is the saying during the last fortnight When Germany demanded Alsace and Lorraine as a part of the price of peace these provinces protested against the transfer with all their might. Their representatives in the assembly voted against the treaty that ceded them to the great German empire, and when in spite of this opposition the sacrifice was made these delegates ostentatiously withdrew For more than a year Alsace and Lorraine have been governed from Berlin and the people had already become accustomed to the new order of things But the treaty of Frankfort contained a provision that at any time previous to the first day of the present month any inhabitant of the ceded territory might choose to remain French After that date all who remained at their former places of abode were to be regarded as German citizens, entitled to the privileges and subject to the duties of other Germans throughout the empire The expiration of the allotted period for option has been made the occasion of a remarkable demonstration of feeling throughout France and in the conquered provinces,—a feeling that is without doubt genuine, but yet in no dramatically displayed and with such bad taste, that a great deal of the sympathy that would have been extended to those who leave home and friends and property through love of country is withheld Ordinarily the person who parades his sorrow and makes a show of mourning is not credited with entire sincerity. And yet, although the expatriated Alsatians and Lorrainers, who have known for a year that they must break with so many associations, have felt the keenest pang at the moment when the actual hour of departure at last arrived.

No human sorrow is a pleasant subject to reflect upon. It is inevitable, nevertheless, and while we may pity those who are afflicted, the sentiment is tempered by the thought that by their suffering others are benefited The German Government has been charged with wanton cruelty in the treatment of the people of the Rhine provinces of France. We are unable to concede the justice of the accusation. If it be true, the cruelty was manifested in the demand that the conquered provinces be yielded up to the conqueror Indeed, it is almost a novel act of generosity to grant to the inhabitants of ceded territory the choice of nationality. The usual course would have been to claim every citizen of Alsace and Lorraine as a German on the conclusion of the treaty. Having granted the privilege of choice, the German government has carried out the treaty with entire consideration for the feelings of the people The French supposed at first that the Alsatians would be allowed to make the option of remaining French and then permitted to remain in their own homes. Bismarck is hardly the sort of man to tolerate such an absurdity Of course every Alsatian would have declared his intention of being a Frenchman still, and then Germany would have had on its hands a territory containing more than a million and a half of inhabitants, all aliens, not subject to military duty, and under the protection of another government which has for its most firmly held principle revenge against Germany These people would cherish feelings not simply of indifference but of hostility to ward the government under which they lived; they would remain in constant hope and expectation that the results of the war would be reversed, and they would be ever ready to join in any revolutionary movement that promised to bring about the change they so ardently desired. When the foolish hope that they might choose to remain French and yet live to be thorns in the side of the German Government was rudely dispelled, they still clung to the idea that those who were inhabitants of the conquered provinces, but not natives, might remain Frenchmen without changing their residence. This expectation, which was only less absurd than the other, has also been disappointed. The rigid enforcement of the treaty, hard though it is for such as cannot bear the thought of becoming Germans, is the truest kindness to the people concerned, while it is the only measure of safety for the Empire.

The choice that has been made is irrevocable, at least if it was in favor of the French nationality. Those who have elected to be Germans, either formally or by the failure to declare themselves citizens of France, may still leave the country, and we presume France would be glad to get them. But those who have joined the crowds, exaggerated in numbers no doubt, that have blocked the roads into France, cannot return. They will not be permitted to evade the intention of the German Government by passing themselves off as alien immigrants into Alsace and Lorraine. They have had ample time to decide upon their course, and the German Government does not put up with trifling It is difficult to see how this extensive exodus of dis satisfied patriots can fail to be productive of great misery. In the partially depopulated provinces labor must be, for a time at least, scarce and dear, and all prices will necessarily advance. Unless, as is scarcely probable, the self expatriated are chiefly from the well-to-do classes, labor will be in excess in those districts of France where the most of them settle, deranging industry and causing increased poverty and heavier poor rates. In time the equilibrium will be restored, but we may confidently expect that the exiled Alsatians and Lorrainers will treasure up the hardship of their position against the German Government, and will constitute a leaven of public opinion in France that will not be, to put it mildly, conducive to the peace of Europe.

Banking Ethics

[From the St Paul Press.]

Bankers and commercial men, not only in New York but throughout the country, are deeply interested in the controversy regarding the action of the Bank of Commerce and the City Bank of New York, on Thursday last, in refusing to pay greenbacks over their counters to the holders of checks which had been certified as "good" by the proper officers of these same banks These checks, to the amount of nearly a million in the case of the Bank of Commerce, had been presented by the brokers of Smith and Gould, who were engineering a "corner" not only in gold but in money, and it was supposed to be the intention to "lock up" all the currency thus collected upon checks, in pursuance of the plan to make money scarce. The two banks mentioned declined to cash the checks until they had passed through the clearing house—a course which completely frustrated the designs of Smith and Gould, and left the money market free of their machinations. There is no question but a very large majority of the financial and commercial community more particularly interested sympathize strongly with the bank officers in the radical course they took; and as Mr David Dudley Field, attorney for Gould, has commenced proceedings against the banks as bankrupts, for failing to meet their own obligations at maturity, there will doubtless be, at some future time an adjudication of the very nice and very important questions involved in the case.

This adjudication will probably turn upon the consideration of the force which custom has or should have in varying the legal obligations of banks to pay certified checks upon demand. It is claimed, on behalf of the recalcitrant banks, that the custom or uniform practice of the stock exchange and gold room is that all contracts, not otherwise stipulated are settled by check on some one or more of the associated banks in the clearing house By common practice, and also by comity between the banks and the brokers large credits, in the shape of certified checks, are granted to the latter, and liquidated next day through the clearing house, the balances resulting being paid by the debtor banks in greenbacks. It is asserted that the enormous business of the stock exchange and the gold room could not be conducted otherwise The defence of the banks which refused to pay will be that the checks presented were brokers checks, which according to invariable custom, should have taken the usual course through the clearing house, and be presented for liquidation the next day In other words, they claim that a promise to pay currency on demand, which is the effect of a certification, is not according to the custom regulating that part cular class of obligations, a promise to pay until the next day, when the assets of the account against which the checks are drawn will have been realized, and all the transactions concluded.

It will be a very interesting question for the courts to settle how far a bank may thus qualify its obligation to pay, without the consent of the creditor and plead custom in extenuation It is easy to understand how very disastrous results might follow the legalization of the principle claimed, which would be in point of fact, to change sight checks into drafts at one day's time, and to revolutionize the whole system of bank accounts

So far through the week our receipts have been quite liberal and a considerable increase over last week is expected before Saturday night On yesterday and to day a large amount has arrived by rail, steamers and wagons The market however, seems to continue dull a large proportion of the receipts being Wheat purchased in the interior quite a quantity of which is here on storage awaiting chances for shipment

But few changes from the rates prevailing last week For Grain, the prices given are the prevalent ones, though they oftener fall below than go above

Wheat is coming in daily in large quantities and the prospect now is that ere long the whole storing capacity of this city will be occupied, as receipts much exceed the facilities for shipping We hear of no greater rates than $1 10 @ 100 lbs being offered and this delivered in sacks Our dispatches from Liverpool to-day note a decided weakening in the market there the decline being at the rate of nearly two cents on the hundred for average and nearly ten cents on Club Wheat The exact words of one dispatch are "Wheat in Liverpool has declined a penny a hundred for average quality, and sixpence a hundred for Club" Now why this discrepancy should exist is a sort on question for our telegraphic authorities to answer We will soon come to place less confidence in the reports unless there is some consistency in them The difference in the decline on the two qualities quoted is unaccountable on the ground that the former rates given have been correct. The fall in one kind it will be seen, is six times as great as in the other While the Club Wheat has suffered only, for fourteen months, as we showed the other day, been from four to twenty four cents higher than telegraphic quotations no such discrepancy in the rise or fall has ever been reported before We shall require some evidence to remove the well grounded suspicions that an impartial report has not been the object of those who have the agency of the matter in hand

Oats come in freely this week and are more active Hay is also in full supply, and goes off quite actively at the prices given The principal demand is for local consumption

Potatoes are firm at from 75c to $1 20 per hundred pounds. The supply this week has not been proportionately large with that of last, while the demand has not at all fallen off

Apples are getting a little scarce, though this is perhaps temporary for though the crop is short of the average, there is plenty for this market From all we can learn, our shipments of this fruit this season will be very light indeed

Fall Vegetables are abundant in all our provision stores, and are supplied to consumers at very moderate rates

Butter and eggs are not so plenty, and prices for fresh articles rule high

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus inoculated into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid creation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of those horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late.
